Location: 468 Queen St W, Toronto

Generations is more than just an event, it's a living time capsule of the incredible heritage of Canadians alike.

Immersive Exhibition: Explore the past and present through a curated collection of our own artifacts, photographs, and stories. Each community member will bring a photo from their personal archives that will be showcased throughout the night. Like an art gallery of our history. Allowing us to learn more about untapped Canadian culture.

Mission: Our mission is to bring awareness to much needed archival methods that the city needs to invest in, in order to preserve Afro-diasporic Canadian culture. There needs to be a centralized place for all these materials and a way to properly collect and preserve them.
